

'Abdu'l-Baha: The Master of Social Action and Public Discourse

Friday, Sept 11, 7:30 pm, with Paul Hanley

Among His many areas of service to humanity, 'Abdu'l-Bahá initiated remarkable social and economic projects that even today would be at the forefront of agriculture and community development initiatives. Similarly, His public discourse, which occurred 100 years ago, remains transformational in its content on innumerable topics still at the forefront of contemporary discourse. In all things, He is our Exemplar. This presentation features a number of his accomplishments in these areas, focusing particularly on 'Adasiyyah, the model agricultural village established by the Master in the early 20th century.

Join Zoom meeting:

<https://us02web.zoom.us/j/85866646475?pwd=RGVScTA4MWNTSkd5d0taNDJUbmldz09>

Meeting ID: 858 6664 6475 Passcode: 992321. Please join before 7:30 to be let in at the beginning.

Paul Hanley lives in Saskatoon. He has published five books and 1600 articles on the environment, sustainable development, agriculture, and other topics. His most recent book is Man of the Trees: Richard St. Barbe Baker, the First Global Conservationist. Paul has received several awards including the 2015 University of Saskatchewan President's Award for Non-fiction and the 2015 ABS North America Award for Distinguished Scholarship

BIG IDEAS: THE BAHÁ'Í FAITH AND THE ISSUES OF OUR TIME

Please join us for a series of talks addressing some of humanity's shared challenges and opportunities as we work to advance an emerging global civilization. This series brings together perspectives from the Baha'i writings, current research, experience, and contemporary discourses on key issues of our time.